

ALLEGED INCENDIARY MAY BE MURDERER

Dayton, Ohio, Officials Think
Elmer Carr Killed
Three Women.

DAYTON, Ohio, April 25.—Elmer Carr, who will be charged with arson on Monday morning by officials of the State fire marshal's office, is supposed to be the murderer of three women in Dayton and Boston, a little town near Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Mary Middlestetter, whose house is said to have been fired by Carr to secure the insurance, told the off-ice Sunday morning that Carr is guilty of arson, pocket-picking and murders. She told her story only after he was arrested and when she knew he could not escape, as she says he said he would kill her if she told.

One murder of which Carr is said to be guilty is that of Elizabeth Fulhart, in Dayton on February 5. The Fulhart girl's body was found in a cistern in the rear of a vacant house on Jefferson street. That night Carr went to the Middlestetter home, so she says, and saturated with oil a pair of corduroy trousers he had worn and burned them in the stove. The Fulhart girl was last seen with Carr on January 23.

Mrs. Middlestetter says Carr often said things to her which led her to believe that he knew all about the killing of another Dayton girl whose death has been a mystery with the police officers. Carr's record is being carefully followed up by the police. He worked with Mr. Middlestetter here and is said to have caused the separation of husband and wife and to have been with Mrs. Middlestetter at her restaurant in Dayton since her husband left her.

MR. HITCHCOCK GETTING WELL

Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock had so far recovered from the effects of the slight operation he has undergone that he was able to be up and about his home today, and will be at his office tomorrow morning.

Mr. Hitchcock was suffering from an abscess on his nose. An operation was performed at the George Washington University Hospital yesterday.

TOMMY JONES WANTS TO BE TAFT'S CADDY

Tells the President He is the Best on North Shore and Thinks He is Just the Boy to Carry Chief Executive's Sticks—Watches Mails Closely.

HAMILTON, Mass., April 25.—Inspired by ambition and the knowledge that he is the best caddy on the North Shore, young Thomas Jones has written the President Taft in the hope of securing the job of carrying the President's sticks around the golf links here this summer.

Young Jones is the chief caddy of the exclusive Myopia Hunt Club links, and is certain President Taft will visit the grounds often, and the boy has a desire to accompany him over the course.

The President has been sent an invitation to become an associate member of the club, and, as he has heard of the beauties of the Myopia's course through Congressman Gardner, Secretary of the Navy George von L. Meyer, and Nicholas Longworth, all members of the club, who will be here this summer, he will accept the invitation. Anyhow, Tommy Jones figures it out that he should win the job, and he is expecting a reply from the White House in every mail.

PEDESTRIAN PLANS A SMALL MARATHON

Dan O'Leary Arranges Race Over to Georgetown and Back.

Dan O'Leary, the veteran pedestrian of international fame, is now in Washington instituting a miniature "Marathon" race, and offering a number of valuable prizes to the winners.

Mr. O'Leary said he wishes to promote pedestrianism, or "the science of walking for the good of the American nation."

The race will be a "free-for-all" and "go-as-you-please," and will cover the following route: From the Newark Shoe Store, 515 Pennsylvania avenue north-west, along Pennsylvania avenue to Fifteenth street, along Fifteenth street to M street, Georgetown, M street to Thirty-second street, Thirty-second street to O street, to gate of Georgetown University, returning over the same route.

It will be held on Wednesday, April 28, and five prizes will be delivered immediately on completion of the race. These prizes are now on exhibition in the window of the Newark Shoe Store, and entries, which are free, may be left with the following: Dan O'Leary, Riggs House, Newark Shoe Store, 515 Pennsylvania avenue, the sporting editors of the various newspapers.

BRANDUS ART SALE TO BE GREAT EVENT

Works Will Be on Exhibition Tomorrow and Auctioned Thursday.

"The greatest art event of the year," is the introduction given to the exhibition of the Brandus collection of paintings, which will be held at the Sloan Art Gallery, 107 G street northwest, beginning tomorrow. The collection, which comprises some of the most notable and sought-after examples by masters of the modern American and European schools, will be on view until Thursday, when the auction will take place.

In the group are works from the brush of Corot, Bouguereau, Cazin, Diaz, Dupre, Hargraves, Jongkind, Meissonier, Perret, Rousseau, Schreyer, Thaulow, and Innes, and all have been selected with great care and discrimination. The exhibition and sale is expected to attract the attention of connoisseurs in Washington and elsewhere.

ALUMNI MESSAGES FOR G. W. U. MEN

Words From Graduates Now in Foreign Service Received at Banquet.

Messages from many distant lands, including the Philippines, Panama, and Cuba were brought to the annual banquet of the George Washington University Alumni Association last night at Rauscher's.

In each case the speaker who presented the message told of the extraordinary success which George Washington men have been making in the United States foreign service.

More than 100 of the alumni were present at the dinner, with Edwin C. Brandenburg, as toastmaster. Addresses were made by President Charles W. Needham, Arthur P. Davis, chief of the reclamation service; Dr. W. S. of the Philippines; Walter C. Clephane, and P. P. B. Sands.

Mr. Davis brought the message from the alumni engaged on the Panama canal, and vividly pointed out the successful solving of problems there. Dr. Washburn spoke for the Philippine service, chief of the civil service in the Philippines; Mr. Sands told of the law school in the sixties.

President Needham spoke on behalf of the faculty, and Mr. Sands told of the law school in the sixties.

BUYS RIGHT OF WAY.

For the privilege of crossing the Chesapeake and Ohio canal at a point near Chain Bridge, it is understood that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has paid the canal company $300,000. The railroad probably will construct a steel bridge over the canal at that point. Other minor concessions to the railroad company are included in the transaction.

Popular Excursion, Sunday, May 2d Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Round trip Harpers Ferry and Martinsburg, $1.00; Berkeley Springs $1.35; Cumberland, $2.00. Special train leaves Washington 8:15 a. m., returning same day.—Advt.

SAYS REPUBLICANS ARE LIQUOR FOES

Prohibition the Livest Issue in Virginia, Asserts State Senator.

ROANOKE, Va., April 25.—State Senator Harman of Tazewell, one of the few Republican members of the Virginia State senate, declares in an interview that nearly all of the Republican leaders of the southwest part of the State are for prohibition, and that the rank and file of the party are particularly opposed to the liquor traffic.

The senator has recently made a canvass of the Ninth, the only Republican Congressional district in the State, and bases his statements on actual facts as they exist. He further declares that it is the liveliest issue before the people, and the politicians cannot keep it out of this campaign.

Senator Harman says a strong fight was made in the Roanoke convention four years ago for a temperance plank, led by the delegates from the Ninth district, but the "wise ones" from the East succeeded in the adoption of a local option plank. He states that if the committee on platform at the Newport News convention in July does not declare for prohibition the fight will be carried to the floor of the convention.
